Planning is well underway for the 13th annual ASU CSW/SC Professional Development Conference. This year’s conference is all online with an extensive list of workshop offerings on October 21st and 22nd, including a special keynote address by May Busch on “Leading in the New Normal.”

On this year’s schedule, you’ll find some old favorites along with a number of new sessions designed to help you navigate and succeed in our new normal environment.

Registration for the conference will open in early September. Mark your calendars and make arrangements to attend!

This conference is free and is open to all ASU faculty, staff and students. It is the largest university-provided development conference in the nation!

Updates on the conference, including first access to registration is provided to members of the CSW listserv. If you aren’t on the list, email “JoinCSWList” to asucsw@asu.edu

Questions?
Email Karen Engler-Weber, Program Director at Karen.Engler@asu.edu

Here’s a sneak peek at just some of the many offerings this year:

- Staying Motivated and Positive in Times of Uncertainty
- Chipping Away: Leveraging Online Options to Stack Up your Skill Building
- Communicating with Diverse Audiences
- Tackling Microaggressions and Implicit Bias in 2020
- The Finer Things Club: How to Connect with Colleagues when You’re Not Like Jim from The Office
- Effective Decision Making & Taking Risks
- Embracing the Professional Identity of a #millennial
- Lead by Example
- Just Give Yourself a Break, Ok?
- The Changing Workplace: Human and Professional Skills You Need Now and in the Future
- Integrating Inclusive Practices in the Workplace
- Power and Influence
- Reflections on Resilience
- Strengthening Workplace Culture in Midst of Change
- Switch It Up: New Approaches to Motivate Yourself and Others
- Ugh, Another Meeting: Leading and Managing Effective Meetings on Zoom
- Power of Philanthropy: Demystifying Fundraising
- Presentation Skills: Speak So You are Heard
- Imposter Syndrome in Higher Education
- How to Have that Tough Conversation
- Coach Instead of Supervise
- Business Collaborations 101