ASU CSW/SC Professional Development Conference 2021 Now Accepting Workshop Proposals Due June 11, 2021

The ASU Commission on the Status of Women and the ASU Staff Council is pleased to announce the dates for our 14th annual CSW/SC Professional Development Conference. The 2021 CSW/SC Professional Development Conference is scheduled to take place on October 27th and 28th. The conference may be hosted in-person or remotely pending social distancing guidelines.

The goal of the CSW/SC Professional Development Conference is to provide readily-accessible information, resources, and strategies to help individuals succeed in their current position and in their long-term career. The conference offers a variety of exciting variety of workshop sessions covering topics related to career development, workplace skills, leadership training, supervisory training, financial planning, family, work/life balance, among many others. It promises to be a fantastic event with something for everyone! The conference is open to all ASU faculty, staff and students and is free of charge to attend!

Interested in Presenting? Submit a Conference Proposal!

Have you ever thought about presenting? Do you have skills, experience, and expertise that you would like to share? Consider being a presenter for this year's CSW/SC Professional Development Conference. The CSW/SC Conference is the largest university-provided development conference in the nation. It's a great opportunity!

The CSW and Staff Council are looking to add new sessions to this year's conference and are opening the opportunity for faculty and staff members to lead conference presentations. Complete the attached proposal and return it to the CSW Office by June 11th. Visit the CSW website for more information.
